SOCIETY EDITOR

There has never been a gay Thanksgiving week than the one just ended. Three brilliant events, the Country club cabaret dinner dance, the Arizona club dance and the dance given by Miss Henrietta Olney last evening besides countless small affairs made a season of unprecedented pleasure. From now until summer there will be no cause for complaint of dullness. Those who are devoted to society will find every moment occupied, for numerous affairs are being planned that will surpass any functions of previous years. Those who declared the winter would be quiet have conceded their mistake and admitted that since fair week it has been gay enough to satisfy the most exacting. And it is a splendid thing for Phoenix, for entertaining means prosperity and he it known that Phoenix is prosperous.

In addition to the many delightful social events of the week, was the appearance of Ruth St. Denis at the Elks'. It was a distinctly society audience that greeted the dancer both at the evening and matinee per-

MRS. W. H. ROBINSON, Manager.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ganz were among the many who entertained on Thanksgiving day, giving a dinner of charming appointments at their North Central avenue home. The pink color scheme used in decoration was expressed in roses and accented in exquisite hand painted cards that marked places for sixteen.

The most notable event of Thanksgiving week for the junior set was the dance and card evening given Friday by Miss Keturah Shagle of 1902 North Second street. The living rooms were transformed into a veritable garden with a wealth of palms, ferns, roses and chrysanthemums to produce the charming effect. There were present Miss Ethel McDermott, Miss Gladys Kelly, Miss Ruth Goldberg, Miss Dorothy Shayback, Miss Helen Plath, Miss Elizabeth Samuels, Miss Mary McDermott, Miss Elma Tolleson, Miss Ruth Benedict, Miss Alta Lewis, Miss Eleanor Huick, Miss Mary McDermott, Miss Adeline Plath, Miss Bertha Hughes, George Hamilton, Corbin Davidson, Lloyd Jones, Harold Goldberg, Earl Galpin, Harry Osborn, Albert Pinney, Harry Shoen, Gail Lewis, Chester Goldberg, Kenneth Comstock, Joe Duran, Burris Dorris and Willard Detweiler.

Mr. and Mrs. George Olney were handsomely housed in gray crepe meteor. Miss Olney was lovely in yellow charm-cuse and silver and Miss Jackson looked charming in lavender beaded tulle.

The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. George Fowler Gardiner, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goldwater, Mr. and Mrs. Roy S. Goodrich, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hampton, Mr. and Mrs. Homer King, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Burr Altha, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McArthur, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney J. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peabody, Mr. and Mrs. David Goldberg, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Reman Ingles, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Woolsey, Mr. and Mrs. Celia Martin Stoddard, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Warren McArthur, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Goldman, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Green, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Goldberg, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Heder, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Melzer, Miss Ellen Conway, Miss Ruth Ainsworth, Miss Eleanor Sloan, Miss Ruth Griffin, Miss Rema Dorris, Miss Kate Wilson, Miss Harriet Hurley, Miss Selma Goldberg, Miss Marion Dorris, Miss Ruth McClure, Miss Ruth Jessop, Miss Kathryn Kenman, Power Conway, Arthur Hahn, William A. Horrell, Robert Boardley, William Coleman Rogatz, E. J. Chapman, Alexander Baker, Lester Byron, Roy Murray, Robert Baker, Ernest Bennett, Hugh Marshall, Arthur Ainsworth, William Fickas, Lindley Calhoun Morton, Allan Pope, Frank Lang, Dan Patch, Fred Long, Joe Casson, Charles Pope, Donald Green, Arthur Hahn, John Rinker Kibbey and Eugene Goldman.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Abbot were the Thanksgiving day dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Finney of 1970 West Adams street.

In the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends Miss Mina Edwards and Clay Racers were married at six o'clock Thursday evening at the home of the bride's father, H. G. Edwards of 602 North Second street. The living room where the ceremony took place was effectively decorated in American Beauty roses and chrysanthemums. The bride was charmingly gowned in blue crepe meteor and wore a becoming hat of blue combined with cloth of gold. Miss Mary Nell Harrison was maid of honor and only attendant and wore a fetching pink crepe frock. Reverend J. Harvey Deere read the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Racers will make their home in an attractive new residence of East Willetta street.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight B. Heard of Casa Blanca gave a dinner of eight covers Thanksgiving day.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fowler Gardiner of North Central avenue gave a family dinner on Thanksgiving day. The table's central ornament was of orchids and lilies of the valley and places were arranged for Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Stacy, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence I. Stacy, Miss Mildred Stacy and Miss Ruth Gardiner.

Judge and Mrs. Henry D. Ross of 1219 North Central avenue had as dinner guests Thanksgiving evening Judge and Mrs. Lewis T. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Phillipowski, Miss Salee King and Miss Mildred Smith.

In honor of Mrs. James Monroe Moore of San Diego, Mrs. Lyman Bennett of 800 North First avenue gave a charmingly appointed luncheon of eight covers Friday. Auction was a pleasant feature of the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer King of 1112 North Third street were dinner hosts Tuesday evening complimentary to Miss Dorothy Jackson of Los Angeles. The table's centerpiece was of fragrant pink roses and covers were laid for Miss Jackson, Miss Henrietta Olney, Hugh Marshall and Lindley Calhoun Morton. Following the dinner Mr. and Mrs. King took their guests to the theater and later to the delightful dance at The Rose Tree.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hanny of 1022 North Third street returned Tuesday from a six weeks absence in the east. She was delightfully entertained in her former home in Buffalo and had an equally charming time in Washington, New York and Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Goldsworthy of 222 West Roosevelt street passed the Thanksgiving season in Tucson.

Mrs. W. H. Wallace, her daughter Mrs. Horace D. Knowles of New York and Mrs. A. H. MacGrath of Syracuse who passed last spring in Phoenix, have returned for the winter. On Thanksgiving day they were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Royal Lescher of North Central avenue who also entertained Fred Long and Robert Beardsley.

To the regret of the members of the smart set with whom she is a favorite, Miss Dorothy Jackson will return to Los Angeles tomorrow after a fortnight in town the guest of Miss Henrietta Olney of North Central avenue.

Thanksgiving day was the incentive for innumerable dinners many of which were "family affairs" that are always in vogue in the holiday season. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stauffer entertained their relatives at a delightful event. The table was decorated in American Beauty roses and places were marked for Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Jessop, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bennett, Miss Ruth Jessop, Miss Marion Bennett, Miss Dorothy Stauffer and Ernest Bennett.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Anderson and Miss Ethel Brown were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Collins of North Second avenue on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Goldsworthy of 222 West Roosevelt street entertained the D. T. club Monday evening. Mrs. T. J. Johnson making the highest auction score.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Perry De Mund of 647 North Second avenue gave a family dinner in celebration of Thanksgiving. The table's central ornament was a basket of long stemmed American Beauty roses. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Ray De Mund, Mr. and Mrs. William Betram.

Miss Fay De Mund and Charles De Mund.

The dinner guests of Judge and Mrs. Joseph H. Kibbey Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stauchman Jencker and Mrs. Carolyn Kibbey.

Scores of motorists passed Thanksgiving on the desert for picnics are popular all the year round in this glorious climate, especially at this season of the year. Mr. and Mrs. William S. Humbert, Mr. and Mrs. William Kennedy, Humbert, Miss Hanson and Albert Schellkapp formed a party that enjoyed an out of door day.

H. E. Heighon of Tucson will be in town over Sunday the guest of his sister, Mrs. W. K. James of the McDowell road.

Society will regret to learn that Mrs. Augustus Redewill and Miss Alice Redewill will not return until late in December. They had planned being home for Thanksgiving day and were greatly missed at the family reunion. The Eugene Redewills, Francis Redewills, Victor Redewills and Cass Redewills passed the holiday at Echo Canyon.

Miss Mary Leavelle of 349 West Latham street entertained at dinner Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parsons and Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson.

Mrs. T. M. Pemberton of the Welch apartments presided over a pretty appointed dinner Thanksgiving, her guests being Mr. and Mrs. Clay Parker, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Carson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pemberton and Mrs. John Parks.

The following article from an Oakland paper will be of interest to Phoenixians who pleasantly recall the visit of Mrs. Whoon and her charming daughter here several seasons ago:

"Quite the most interesting bit of news during the week was the announcement of the engagement of Miss Marie Mhoon, the beautiful daughter of Mrs. John Bell Mhoon of this city, to Henry Kessler Fair of Riverside. The announcement was made down south, where Miss Mhoon went to be one of the bridesmaids at the wedding of Miss Marie Roberts to P. S. Kamm and Miss Louise Roberts to Walter Kamm. Miss Mhoon belongs to one of the best known families here and is a favorite in local society. She is a daughter of the late Major Mhoon and a sister of Mrs. Frederick Magee and Sam Mhoon, and a niece of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. G. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. H. M. A. Miller of San Francisco, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry East Miller of this city. Mrs. Mhoon and her daughter have spent some time in the south, where they have many friends, who will welcome the latter when she returns as the bride of Mr. Fair. The wedding of the couple will be an event of the spring. During the days preceding Miss Mhoon's marriage there will be much entertaining for this popular belle."

Dr. and Mrs. Frank V. Woodward of 1119 West Adams street entertained with a family dinner Thanksgiving day. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. H. Willard Daykin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Sterling, Miss Elizabeth Sterling, Miss Elsie Woodward, Miss Daykin and Ralph Daykin.

"The clothes of the well-dressed man came from a store where good taste is a part of the equipment and expert advice is the complement of the merchandise."

The well dressed man casts a creditable reflection on the shop where he bought his clothes—a walking advertisement, to be more plain.

The large and increasing patronage we are receiving from the men of Arizona gives us just cause, we believe, to consider this shop pre-eminent in its field.

Just 22 days for your Christmas shopping and you should profit by these next few days and do it when the selections are better and the rush not so great.

PROGRESSIVE CHARACTERISTIC

The Waterbury American expresses surprise at the manner in which progressives can disagree in their love-fests without anyone getting sore. "Nobody gets very mad over these give-and-take matters. It is a Moose characteristic," says our contemporary.

Of course. And yet we can understand how all this seems strange to those familiar with the old-school politics, in which differences of opinion invariably mean factional feuds and personal vendettas. The fact is, the progressive party is made up of men and women accustomed to think of themselves and so accustomed to respect the rights of others to similar intellectual freedom. Recognizing no boss who can dictate what they shall think, they have no arbitrary authority with whom to quarrel. Thus they can argue and debate and remain good friends and good comrades. In this lies the life and the hope of progressivism.—Chicago Post.
